Section 3 — What you pay

Good to know before you order

- Every feature is included in the licence. There is nothing extra to unlock, and no charge per user or per branch.
- The software runs on your own server or hosting. Your data belongs to you and can be exported at any time.
- One licence key covers one live installation. A test copy for training is free.
- The licence needs an internet connection to activate and to check itself. If the internet is down, the system keeps working normally for a grace period.
- If the licence expires, the system asks for a new key before it will open again. Your data is never deleted, changed or withheld — it stays in your database and we help you renew or export it.

- The system is designed for desktop and laptop computers. Phones and tablets are not supported.
- It is an inventory and point-of-sale system. It is not accounting software — there is no general ledger or chart of accounts. It works alongside your accountant's software.
- Printed invoices and PDF documents are produced in English. The screens are available in English, Arabic and Bengali.
- The system is not registered for e-invoicing schemes such as ZATCA (Saudi Arabia) or the UAE FTA. If your country requires this, tell us in Section 7 and we will advise you before you order.
